

Is gold always valuable? (11:22)

THE TEXT (NASB)

As a gold ring in a swine's snout, so is a beautiful woman who lacks discretion.

*As a jewel of gold in a swine's snout, so is a fair woman which is without discretion. Classic KJV
- Proverbs 11:22*

INTRODUCTION

Gold is always valuable, but not always desirable. The text equates feminine beauty with a gold ring; both are desirable, but not always.

Unwise financial management can make turn even the richest treasures unattractive. Consider the great storehouses of gold pillaged by Iraqi tyrant Saddam Hussein or by the Nazis in World War II.

Piggish stupidity or feminine arrogance can make the usefulness of gold questionable and its enjoyment brief.

COMMENTARY

Gold is Good But Mindless

This text deals more with the need for discretion than the worth of precious metals. Gold, like all money, has no mind of its own. This gold ring is moved around by its wearer—here, a pig. A beautiful, but mindless body is like an unguided rocket—Hollywood is full of examples. The pig wallows about in mud and slop.

Yet the text does equate a beautiful woman with a gold ring. Beauty and gold are both good. From the Bible's second chapter (Genesis 2:12) to its second last chapter (Revelation 21:21), God's word speaks of gold as valuable. Both gold and beauty—real beauty—remain a store of value here on earth.

Include Gold in Your Investment Portfolio

For thousands of years, since the invention of money, gold has been the basic international currency. Until the latter half of the 20th century, it was the guarantee and reserve for the printed currencies of the great trading nations. However, in 1970, “the gold standard” (gold’s fixed price of $35USD/oz.) was abandoned, and within a decade, it soared as high as $875 US/oz. Gold’s value in 2003 was roughly $350 USD/oz. Today, we’re looking at $1,800 USD/oz.

In my opinion, gold, other precious metals, or mutual-fund equivalents should comprise at least eight percent of most people’s investment holdings. The value of gold on the global market place tends to vary inversely with the value of equity markets. Gold is seen by many as a safe haven in times of war or geopolitical uncertainty.

OUR CREATOR, REDEEMER, AND FRIEND

Jesus bought His church with something more precious than gold—His own blood (1 Peter 1:18-19).

A rich man will give up all his gold before he gives all his blood. Jesus, in giving His blood to the point of death, showed that we are of supreme value to Him. He gave up absolutely everything for our sake.

Jesus’ blood, unlike any other human blood, was unstained by sin—totally innocent. No other human ever had such blood. Does this mean it was genetically different from any other human blood? We cannot determine this, but we do know from scripture that Jesus was the only one born without a human father. He was spotless. He was the One who alone could satisfy the wrath of God toward rebellious people, yet redeemed by another’s death for our life (John 1:29, 2 Corinthians 5:21).

APPLICATION

- Memorize the text in your favourite Bible translation and think about it often.
- Are you giving sufficient effort to the pursuit of wisdom, or do you think that the solution to your problems is just having more money?
- Are you putting more emphasis developing outward beauty or inward character?
- Train your children to dress tastefully, but also modestly.

ILLUSTRATION

Who is Prudent Pauline?

Prudent Pauline is a planner. She looks before she leaps, she thinks before she speaks. Her favourite mottos are: “Haste makes waste,” “brains over brawn,” and “don’t jump to conclusions.”

When Pauline first heard that famous maxim: “The journey of a thousand miles begins with the first step,” she said NO! It begins with a good map. The map must be studied and the best route plotted. Consider road conditions, terrain, rest stops, refuelling, hostile territory, expected weather, travelling companions, clothing, supplies, and many more factors, including (if necessary) a guide.

She has studied the wisdom of Solomon and even helped teach him a thing or two. Solomon wrote these words about 3,000 years ago in honour of Prudent Pauline. “Whatever your hand finds to do (no matter what you are doing) do it with all your might (give it your full ability and energy) for there is no activity or planning or wisdom after you die—it will be too late.” Pauline says, “First comes wisdom, then comes planning (her favourite activity), and then comes activity.”

Pauline makes the time to do tax planning. She does a work plan every day. She uses a day timer or planner to assign priorities to her activities. She and Diligent Daniel are an incredible pair. Pauline does all her homework before she starts an activity.
